forwarding for sanction, proposals for the recruitment of Sub-inspectors for the next ten years at the rate of 10 a year.

The D. C. of Police shows in the two Statements appended to the cited letter that 58 inspectors and 50 Sub-inspectors will retire from Service within the next ten years. In order to make up the decrease in the strength of the cadre he is proposed, after reviewing the material at present available, to recruit & train annually 10 probationers. It is stated that the number of officers to be eliminated will be greater if the casualties are taken into account. If 100 vacancies are thrown open for direct recruitment within the next ten years at 10 vacancies a year a number of 33 vacancies in the Sub-inspectorate will have to be reserved for promotion from the Jamedars in accordance with Rule 20 (a) of the Police Manual Vol. I. This may perhaps be met by the vacancies arising from casualties as stated by the D. C. of Police. For the calculation of the aggregate number of vacancies for the purpose of recruitment of Sub-inspectors, 58 vacancies from the Inspectorate are taken into account, while no recruitment is proposed in the Inspectorate as required by rule 21 (a) of the Police Manual Vol. I. This situation is

8) The extra cost for additional equipment on this account to the P. T. S is not stated. The scheme of direct recruitment seems to be necessary. It will be easy to sanction it if savings can be effected by keeping vacant some posts of jamedars, Daffedars & Constables so as to make up the extra cost for the scheme as has been done in the ~~Re~~ Reduction Ministry in respect of the Cadet scheme.

23) I have discussed this with the Secretary and we are going to have a large number of vacancies of Sub-Inspectors & after filling up a proportion of the vacancies by promotion, a large percentage remains to be filled up direct recruitment. These new recruits must have at least one year's training. The scheme has therefore to be sanctioned. The Expenditure, I am afraid, is unavoidable. Final Note by the Second Member of Council. 9 ✱

Subject:—

Recruitment of Probationary Sub Inspectors of Police.

In his letter dated the 27th August 1932, the Inspector General of Police has made certain recommendations for the direct recruitment of Sub Inspectors. He anticipates that 58 Police Inspectors and 50 Sub Inspectors will retire from service in the course of the next ten years. As only a small proportion of the subordinate officers now in the force is competent to serve in the Inspectorate or Sub Inspectorate, he considers it essential, if the standard of subordinate officers is to be improved, to begin at once to secure qualified and suitable recruits for the force. In order to make up the decrease in the strength of the cadre of the officers caused by retirement and casualities arising in other ways and to infuse fresh blood, he proposes to recruit Sub Inspectors at the rate of ten a year during the next ten years. It is proposed to recruit probationers only to the grade of Sub Inspectors so that they may get a thorough grounding in all branches of the work of the subordinate staff, -men of outstanding ability and repute being promoted to the grade of Inspectors irrespective of seniority. The educational qualification recommended for this grade is a pass in the University Intermediate examination and the period of training will be for one year during which the probationers will be given a pay of Rs.35 per mensem.

The Inspector General of Police proposes to arrange for the necessary training to the recruits in the local Police Training school. The annual cost on account of the recruits is Rs.4,200 and it is proposed to meet this expenditure this year and the cost of additional equipments to the Police Training school, from the savings expected to result under "salaries" in the Police budget of the current year.

OFFICE OF THE INSPECTOR GENERAL OF POLICE IN MYSORE

Dated Bangalore, the 27th August, 1932.

From

F. A. HAMILTON, Esq., C.I.E.,
Inspector General of Police in Mysore,
BANGALORE.

To

N. MADHAVA RAO, Esq., B.A., B.L.,
Chief Secretary to the Government of Mysore,
Bangalore.

Sir,

RECRUITMENT OF SUB-INSPECTORS

I have the honor to append lists showing the normal wastage in the department amongst Gazetted Officers, Inspectors and Sub Inspectors during the next 10 years due solely to retirements at the age of superannuation. It will be seen that 8 Gazetted Officers, 58 Inspectors and 51 Sub Inspectors will thus be eliminated during this period. The number will inevitably be greater owing to casualties arising in other ways, but it may be taken, after allowing for direct recruitment of Gazetted Officers at the rate of 2/3rds of the number of casualties (Vide my letter No.C.C.19/31-32 dated 27th February, 1932) and for the promotion of Jamadars to the Sub-Inspectorate in the proportion of 25% prescribed, that the average annual number of Sub Inspectors and Inspectors to be replaced will amount to 10*. I, therefore, recommend that this number of Sub Inspectors be recruited annually in order that provision may be made betimes for the inevitable wastage in the department. The number might even be increased to 12 to allow for casualties arising in other ways than retirement on superannuation.

Such a step is rendered imperative when the material at present available is reviewed. Without being over-critical it must be said that only a small proportion of the subordinate officers now in the force is competent to serve in the Inspectorate or Sub-Inspectorate and it is essential, if the standard of subordinate officers is to be improved, to begin at once to secure qualified and suitable

It may, I think, be taken that adequate training can be given locally and that thus the expense involved in sending Probationary Sub Inspectors abroad for training may be avoided.

The need for recruiting fresh blood is necessary and urgent and I trust that Government will approve of the suggestions put forward. The cost of the Sub Inspectors required will be in addition to the budget estimate for the current year. An estimate of the cost of 10 Sub Inspectors for one year is appended - that being the period during which it is proposed these officers should be under theoretical and practical training. An estimate of the cost of additional equipment will be made out and sent to Government as soon as is possible.

Not received

The proposed course of training for the newly recruited Sub Inspectors might begin in October of this year. They may have three terms of training in theoretical and one of practical work in the course of the year.

As regards the pay of Probationary Sub Inspectors this is at present fixed at Rs.31/- as corresponding to the old scale of pay for Jamadars. That pay has since been raised to Rs.40/-, but in my more recent proposals two grades of Jamadar on Rs.32/- and 35/- have been proposed. I suggest, therefore, that the pay of Probationary Sub Inspectors be fixed at Rs.35/- - equivalent to that of senior grade Jamadars during the period of their training. The annual cost for 10 Probationary Sub Inspectors will then amount to Rs.4,200/-.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient servant,

INSPECTOR GENERAL OF POLICE.
